

Weekly Feedback Report	 CONTACT ADDRESS: Itu@mediasupport.org	Issued: 23 Jan 2026
Brief Summary
Most callers to Radio Ergo’s audience feedback platform this week (15-21 January 2026) were extremely concerned and distressed about the impact of the ongoing drought across the country. The majority of calls came from southern regions and central regions. People said they were short of food and water and many asked for assistance. Some described dead and dying livestock. Callers in Hirshabelle noted that the river level was low. Others talked about very hot temperatures. Three callers, however, in Hiran and Middle Juba said their areas had received a little rainfall. The following summarises the calls by theme. Aid – one caller in Guriel asked for the Bahnano safety net fund to distribute cash aid again quickly. Other callers in recent weeks have requested the same. IDPs – a female caller in Haradhere camp in Adado said they had been displaced and were facing food shortage and lack of shelter in the camp. Another caller in Qansahley camp in Dollow, Gedo, said they had been hit hard by drought and were appealing for help. Protection – a caller in El-buur said people were concerned about clan conflicts in the area and needed the Galmudug government to help them to bring peace. A caller in Tiye glow, Bakool, said they were living under the brutal control of Al-Shabab and needed intervention. Jobs – a caller in Kahda, Mogadishu, said people were facing hardships, and jobs they used to do breaking rocks for construction were no longer available. Another caller in Guriel said there was no employment for youth and jobs were needed. Radio Ergo’s weekly programmes on Nutrition and Mental Health attracted quite a number of callers, showing high interest in both topics, with requests for more information as well as services. Livestock – three women listeners called the Radio Vet programme for help with their goats. One in Guriel said she had nine goats that she fed regularly but their young ones were dying at birth. Another wanted advice on why her goats were not feeding well. A woman in Hiran asked the experts if there were supplements she could give her thin goats to make them gain weight and produce more milk. Agriculture – a female farmer in Burao, Togdher, wanted advice on controlling white fungus growing on her lemons. Another in Galkayo had problems with swarms of ants on her farm. Several callers in Gedo and the Shabelle regions had problems with white pests damaging crops and fruit. Rainfall – female callers in Buale, M. Juba, and Mataban, Hiran, said they had received some rain. Another caller in Beletweyne also said they had some rain on 15th January. Drought crisis – apart from two callers in Togdher and Bari regions, citing drought and water shortage in rural areas, the rest of the calls came from across Galmudug and the southern regions. [Possibly the lack of calls from northern areas is due to a technical issue on the platform, which we are investigating, as opposed to lack of concern]. A female caller in Abudwak said they faced severe drought and their livestock were dying. She said they also faced clan conflicts and needed help. A woman in Adado said she was appealing for help as a single mother of five children, due to the drought and food shortage in the area. Callers in Dusamareb and Balanbale said conditions were dire and affecting people and livestock. Several called from Guriel about acute water shortages. Among callers from Hiran, a woman said they didn’t know where to take their livestock any more.

A caller in Buleburte said the water level in the river had dropped significantly. Another in Beledweyne said they faced drought and food shortage and needed aid. Several people called from parts of Middle Shabelle. A female caller in Balad said they were short of food and water and as vulnerable people needed help. Another said the river was drying up. Callers in Raga-elle said their livestock were thin and they needed food and cash aid. In Bay region, several called from Baidoa citing severe drought and food shortage, including one woman saying their livestock had perished. Among several callers from parts of Gedo, one in Dollow said the drought was severe, prices had gone up, and food was short. In Lower Shabelle, a caller in Shiqaley said their livestock were dying. A caller in Warsheikh said they had lost livestock. Another in Wanleweyne appealed for humanitarian aid.
