

Weekly Feedback Report	 CONTACT ADDRESS: ltu@mediasupport.org	Issued: 16 Oct 2026
Brief Summary
Among the audience feedback recorded this week (8-14 October 2026) on Radio Ergo’s nationwide independent phone-in platform, several callers spoke of destructive floods that were caused by river overflows or very heavy rainfall. These came mostly from parts of Hirshabelle and Bay region in South West state. Others expressed fears of flooding as a result of the warnings circulating about El Nino. The most talked about topic among callers overall was rainfall, with many citing heavy and beneficial rain, especially across Galgadud region, Hirshabelle, South West, and Jubbaland. A smaller number cited continuing dry conditions, in some cases causing hardship, from scattered locations in Somaliland, Puntland, central regions, and Jubbaland. The following summarises the calls by theme. Floods – in Middle Shabelle region, a caller in El-dhere said they had been battered by heavy rainfall that had flooded the farms. He said their onions and pepper crops were submerged in rainwater. Others in Jowhar said there was heavy rainfall and flooding, with the river rising and people torn between focusing on protecting their farms or their homes. A caller in Geedo-barken village didn’t know what they could do to protect themselves from the flooding he said was going on. Another said they were trying to block off flows of water. A caller in an unspecified part of Hiran region said the Shabelle river level had risen and floods seemed very likely. In Bay region, a female caller in Baidoa said heavy rainfall had led to floods that swept away some of their goats. She appealed for help. A caller in Habre in Baidoa said two people had died as well as some livestock after heavy rainfall. Another said they had lost all their belongings in flooding and needed aid. In Gedo region, a caller in Bardera said their farms had been flooded by rain water, crops were submerged, and they needed help. A female caller, however, said that whilst there had been flooding, those around her were not affected. Rainfall – in the north, one caller in Sheikh, Togdher, said they had received a little rainfall. One other in Godobjiran, on the coastal side of Puntland’s Nugal region, said they had rainfall after a long drought. Across parts of Galgadud, there were many calls about beneficial rainfall, often heavy, from locations including Abudwak, Dusamareb, Guriel, and Wabho. Most talked of gaining relief and recovery. One in Guriel also complained of the lack of job opportunities. A female caller in Abudwak said the rainwater made it hard to move around and water was entering their houses. Several in Hiran, including Beletweyne and Gonyale, cited rainfall that was a blessing for farms and livestock, whilst additionally acknowledging their fears of flooding. In Middle Shabelle, callers cited strong rainfall in Jowhar, Adale, Warsheikh, and Daifo. A caller in El-baraf described the amount of rain as ‘astonishing’. Two callers in Qoryolley, Lower Shabelle, said they were doing well with heavy rainfall, although the river was rising almost to overflowing. In Bay region, several called from Baidoa saying temperatures had cooled with the rainfall that was helping farms and livestock. A caller in Aro-gadud confirmed that the rain had not caused any flooding. A caller in Tiye glow, Bakool, said the rain had replenished their water catchment areas after a lengthy dry period. In Gedo, callers from Bardera, Dollow, and El-wak said the rain was aiding their recovery. In the Juba regions, callers from Jilib, Kismayo, and Afmadow welcomed the rainfall. Drought – in the north, a caller in Dadmaren, Togdher region, thought the continuing drought must be an effect of climate change. A female caller in Sheikh said the drought was severe and they needed aid. A caller in Puntland’s Bari region said farmers were preparing to farm but still hadn’t received rain. Another said the livestock vegetation had disappeared. In Mudug, a female caller in Bur-Salah said they were concerned about drought and hardship.

A few in parts of Galgadud including Abudwak said it was still dry. A female caller in Meygag area said they hadn't had rain although nearby areas had. She prayed for rain and protection from the El Nino alerts they were hearing. A caller in Danyerow, M. Shabelle, said the water level in the river had risen sharply although they had no rain. Callers in scattered parts of Gedo said they hadn't received rainfall, unlike other parts of the region.

Aid – a caller in Sanag region complained that he had been registered among many others to receive three months of cash aid at the height of the drought but he hadn't received anything. He wanted to explain further.

Agriculture – callers from farming areas including Hirshabelle and Bay complained of crop pests including flying insects. A caller in Jowhar also had Health concerns about mosquito infestations that needed control.

Livestock – callers wanted veterinary advice for goats suffering diarrhoea, CCPP disease, and miscarriages. A caller in Hiran said that less than half of their herd's pregnancies were successful.
